According to the annual report of the Comptroller of Currency, the total number of banks organized from the establishment of the national banking system, February 25, 1863, to November 1, of the present year, is 2,495. Of these 314 have gone into voluntary liquidation by the vote of shareholders owning two-thirds of their respective capitals; and eighty-six have been placed in the hands of receivers for the purpose of closing up their affairs. National banks are located in every State of the Union, except Mississippi, and in every territory except Arizona, and the total number in operation, at the date last named was 2,095.

DANA of the New York Sun, is a sadly disgruntled man. After doing dirty work for the Democratic party during the campaign, it now places no dependence on any Democratic majority in the next Senate, and significantly adds: "Unstable as water they shall not excel in any real controversy." It says the Southern Democrats who traded away Tilden make up the chief strength of the Democratic party in the Senate, and they will trade away their souls if need be for the smile of the Executive. Says the Sun further: "Men who have once been traitors to their country, and have never repented, may by possibility if the temptation is very great, betray their party." It thinks Mr. Garfield need not be concerned about meeting opposition in the Senate.

HERE it goes again! Professor E. J. Couch, the Iowa meteorologist, says the signs portend disaster to the earth during the next year. He says every few years millions of people die of starvation; every year thousands of lives and millions of property are sacrificed to the sea, yet, notwithstanding it is possible to avert these calamities, there is persistence in continuing the physics of 2,000 years ago instead of turning to meteorology, in which may be attained a knowledge which will enable us to largely avert these disasters. The calendar month or other period does not coincide with the meteorological period. The astronomical day begins at noon. The meteorological day which begins at July 1, 1890, has an unpropitious appearance. Sanitary vigilance should not be relaxed. In the civil year June is the central month, but July and August are the warmest. In the meteorological year December is the central month, but January and February are often cold. The next year or two may tax the earth to its utmost.

JOHN B. GOUGH has been a public speaker for thirty-eight years, and yet he has never met an audience that he did not feel like running away from. So he says. The older he grows the more timid he becomes. He was so frightened in Sturgis, Minn., that he was obliged to calm himself in the vestry. He has frequently been compelled to walk up and down a street in front of a lecture hall in order to cool off. He says that the trouble with a platform orator is that his best stories do not take with the audience.

NEARLY all the people who belonged to Alexander H. Stephens, of Georgia, as slaves remain on his plantation. His house is always full of visitors; for, although he eats almost nothing himself, he likes to be known as a hospitable bachelor. He is passionately fond of whisky. He keeps on his place an old gentleman of 90 years, with whom he plays cards.

GEN. GRANT is expected to visit Washington next Monday. He will be received at the station by a brigade of Boys in Blue, and escorted to the old Decatur mansion on Lafayette square, where he will be the guest of his friend General Beale. It is proposed to serenade him on Wednesday evening, when there will be a general turn out of the Republican associations.

Peter Peril, the undertaker, has removed his residence from West Wood street to the building two doors south of May's grocery store, on South Main street. Calls by night or day will receive prompt attention. Mr. Peril has recently purchased this property, and will improve it for his permanent home.

LIVING IN DENVER.
Advertising to human and animal life at high altitudes, a recent writer gives us some very interesting facts. But very few dogs, he says, except hounds, can live in Leadville, and no cats can survive there. In Denver, however, are multitudes of both dogs and cats, and they appear to experience no special difficulty about living and getting fat. Yet it is a noticeable fact that animals and men lose a share of their strength after coming to Denver. After being there two or three months, their muscular power is not nearly so great as in the East. Nor can they endure so much hard work. Eight hours of continuous hard work does more to exhaust and prostrate a man there than ten hours in Illinois or Wisconsin. And when worn out and prostrated, a feeling of lassitude and drowsiness that is very difficult to dispel comes over one. In such instances, many hours of rest are requisite to repair and rebuild the wasted energies. Mental labor is even more exhausting than physical. A healthy man may do manual labor for eight or ten hours a day, and experience therefrom no specially evil effects; but let mental labor be pursued with the like assiduity, and the nervous system becomes weakened and irritable. In time the physical powers become disordered and weakened by sympathy, and by the strain upon them to supply the brain waste. These facts are more noticeable in the case of newcomers than those who have lived for a year or more at high altitudes. Persons and animals thoroughly acclimated do not experience these drawbacks. Indeed, these could not look better anywhere. The great difficulty is in getting acclimated.

The Best Newspaper.
During the past few weeks great improvements have been made in the Evening Chronicle. Three-fourths of its former staff, which at first was made up only of available men, and necessarily not the best, have been changed for the better. From the first ranks of St. Louis journalists these recruits have been picked. "Good salaries and good work," is the motto that has been adopted by the managers of this paper.

The feature of State news, which at first was necessarily crude, has been greatly improved upon. This department has been put under the charge of a capable State editor who by the aid of a large score of correspondents has made the department one of the most admirable features of the paper. It is daily filled with the freshest news from various points throughout the two States of Illinois and Missouri, through the medium of the telegraph and post. Further improvements in this department are promised.

The Chronicle market reports are the latest and most reliable published in the city.

Another improvement has been made in the telegraphic news of the paper. The Chronicle is now receiving telegraphic news from both the press associations.

The gentleman who up to the present time has acted as Washington correspondent for the Chicago Times has been engaged by the Chronicle and will during the coming winter furnish this paper with the latest and most reliable news from the national capital.

A special correspondent of the Chronicle at Jefferson City will also keep its readers informed of the latest and best news from that point during the coming session of the Legislature.

The Chronicle has now ceased to be an experiment and has become even a phenomenal success and a permanent feature of journalism in St. Louis. Although it is less than five months old it has attained a circulation exceeded by only two other St. Louis papers.

TAMMANY AND ANTI-TAMMANY.
A New York telegram says: Interest in political circles over the combination of Republican and anti-Tammany Aldermen against John Kelly is very great. No doubt is expressed by veteran politicians about the City Hall that the plan will be carried out. The charge made by Kelly's supporters that money would be used or had been used to secure confirmations is scouted as absurd—the reckless fabrication of a defeated and desperate faction. It is known to all that the basis of agreement between the Republicans and the opponents of Tammany is a fair representation in all the city departments. It is known that strong efforts have been made by Tammany leaders to compel the four disaffected Tammany Aldermen to abandon their intention to vote with the opposition. It is even alleged that threats have been made against some of them that they will be arrested on charges of bribery if they persist in voting as they have promised to do. Thus far these threats have had no effect. It is understood that promises of places have been made freely to certain of the Aldermen on the condition that they will abandon the combination. That very strong efforts to break the combination will be made up to the time of meeting Friday is taken for granted by Irving Hall and the Republican leaders, but they declare their belief that it will hold firm, and that more than a safe majority will be ready to vote for the confirmation.

Late News.
The coal supply in Quincy is about exhausted.

Schuyler Colfax is lecturing in this State.

Edward Clark, of New York, has sold 3,680 acres of land in Vermilion county to S. W. Allerton, of Chicago, for $70,000.

James Sutherland, a prominent citizen of Paris, died suddenly of pneumonia, last Wednesday. He was a powerful built, robust man.

The citizens of Jersey county, along the line of the proposed St. Louis, Jerseyville & Springfield railroad, are manifesting a great deal of interest in the enterprise.

ATLANTA, GA., Dec. 8.—This afternoon General Robert Toombs, the well-known Georgian, said that he was glad the State had come over to his way of thinking; that she ought not to vote at all. Gen. Toombs, it will be remembered, is disfranchised. He said, "By God, I haven't voted since 1868, and not only Georgia, but the whole South ought not to vote. What the hell's the use in our voting?" he continued. Three of the Electors were present; also an ex-Governor and two newspaper men. When, in a social way, the remarks were made, he said: "I ain't foted and I don't want to vote. You fellows come here to cast the vote of Georgia a week behind time. You are a pretty set. Why the hell didn't you get up a snow storm like they did in Michigan? I'm sorry for you all."

The Electoral College had met at noon to-day and cast the vote of Georgia for Hancock, and elected Thaddeus K. Oglesby as messenger. No expression of opinion of the Electors as to the validity of their vote was asked, though in private conversation the Commercial correspondent is enabled to say that nearly half of them agree that the vote of Georgia is invalid, and nearly every one of them deplore the sad discrepancy in the law.

PITTSFIELD, Ill., Dec. 10.—Pittsfield was again visited by the fire fiend last night. This time the property burned was the livery stable owned by Leslie Dutton, and occupied by John F. Scott, which was located in the rear of some of the most valuable property in the town. The fire is believed to have been the work of the "fire bugs" who seem to infest this place.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10.—The Press will publish to-morrow a letter from George S. Boutwell, C. A. Arthur, Noah Davis and Roscoe Conkling, in which, after referring to the editorial that appeared in the Press of October 29, 1889, in which it was alleged that Senator Bayard, in a speech delivered recently at Dover, referred to the case of Phelps, Dodge & Co., who were compelled some years ago to refund the Government the amount of duties unpaid on certain undervalued invoices, and declared that Senator Conkling, Noah Davis, the district attorney; Mr. Arthur, the collector; Mr. Jane, the special officer, and George S. Boutwell, secretary of the treasury, were present in the custom house when this money ($267,000) was paid, and that they divided it among themselves, concludes: "A month has now elapsed since you thus published and characterized this reported utterance. The State Sentinel, a newspaper published at Dover, the place where the speech is said to have been made, contained, only one day later than your issue, a like report, yet up to this time no disclaimer or retraction by or on behalf of Mr. T. F. Bayard, has appeared as far as we know. We think it time to notice so serious a slander purporting to come from a member of the Senate of the United States. We therefore pronounce the statement, by whomsoever made, a truthless calumny. If it was made with the assertion that the man who made it had 'knowledge and means of knowledge' of its truth, besides being a falsehood it was a willful and wicked falsehood.

(Signed.) GEO. S. BOUTWELL, C. A. ARTHUR, NOAH DAVIS, ROSCOE CONKLING.

TELEGRAPHIC OKLAHOMA.
Progress of Payne's Expedition.
Interesting Washington Items.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., December 10.—Payne's forces have pulled up stakes and are moving along the line to Hunkerville, where they will meet another force of about 200. Gen. Mason, of the 4th cavalry, moves with them, and camps overnight. The colonists were addressed by Major H. M. Watt, commanding. They unanimously resolved that they would proceed to the public lands in Oklahoma, and would not fire unless they were fired on, but if they were they would return the fire. There certainly will be a conflict unless cool counsels prevail. The colonists seem to be determined. Many of them have left the drouthy portions of Kansas and have no homes to go to. It is a case of desperation with them. They are now on the march with a large United States flag at the head of the column. The members are singing gay songs, but to-morrow the gay throng may form a funeral procession.

Payne moved as far as Butler Creek and is now in camp there, with Lieut. Mason and United States Deputy Marshal Horn camped near him. There are various rumors that Payne will enter the Territory to-night. Lieut. Mason has just telegraphed Gen. Pope the situation stating that he would do his duty but that his force is not large enough. Mr. Maxwell, just in camp from Arkansas City, reports that 20 Oklahoma emigrants had reached there since Payne moved. He says that they will enter the Territory from that point. News from Payne's camp is that large numbers are going into Oklahoma from other points while the military are watching him. This seems to be Payne's policy. If Payne moves to-night there will be trouble.

NEW YORK, December 10.—The thermometer from 7 this morning until 1 o'clock ranged between 7 and 10 degrees above zero. A brisk wind gives to the cold temperature a nipping quality. Notwithstanding this freezing weather, politicians of all degrees crowd the City Hall park, so great is their interest in hearing to-day of the action of the Board of Aldermen. It was given out, and generally believed, that the anti-Tammany members of the board had formed an alliance with the Republicans, whereby a sufficient number of votes would be secured to confirm the nomination of Mayor Cooper. A large force of police was needed to keep the crowd in order and free the approaches to the chamber of the board, which was crowded with interested people from an early hour.

Promptly at noon the meeting was called to order, and soon thereafter a communication from the Mayor was read, nominating Allen Campbell for Comptroller, in place of John Kelly, whose term of office expired Tuesday last. The Republican Aldermen moved to confirm, and the Tammany Aldermen offered an amendment to refer the nomination to a committee. A long debate followed, and the amendment was lost—9 affirmative, 12 negative. The motion to confirm was then taken up, and an exciting discussion took place. When the vote was taken it resulted for confirmation, 13; against, 8, and Allen Campbell succeeds John Kelly as Comptroller of the City of New York.

Every one now felt that the entire slate would be approved. Confirmation rapidly followed of William C. Whitney, anti-Tammany, as Corporation Counsel; S. Lem H. Wade, Republican, as Park Commissioner; John D. Lawson, Republican, as President of the Tax Commission; Solon B. Smith, Republican, Maurice J. Bower, anti-Tammany, and Hugh Gardner, Republican, as Police Justices; William Lamber, Republican, as Dock Commissioner; William Mitchell, anti-Tammany, and Morris Friedman, Republican, as Excise Commissioners, and Hubert O. Thompson, anti-Tammany, as Commissioner of Public Works.

ARKANSAS CITY, Dec. 10.—Payne's Colony remained in camp on the Territory line last night, flanked by Lieut. Mason and forty-eight blue-coats of the Fourth Cavalry. Mason, by invitation, visited Payne's headquarters and read his orders to the assembled colonists, after which Payne delivered an address, thanking Gen. Pope for his military escort, but notifying Lieut. Mason that it was the intention of the colonists to move into Oklahoma at every hazard. There was a manifest good feeling and fraternizing between the troops and immigrants. When your correspondent left this morning the colonists were on military dress parade and inspection with the stars and stripes at the right of the line. The immigrants are determined to go to Oklahoma at every hazard, and should the troops oppose, or as is anticipated, kill their horses, or attempt to destroy their outfit, there will be a bloody conflict. The colonists broke camp at 10 a. m. and are moving westward on the Kansas line. All they desire is that Congress should act with promptness and decision in fixing the status of ceded lands. Hundreds of colonists are moving towards the Territory from other points. The Poncas and Nez Perces have been stirred up by emissaries from the agencies, and are threatening to take the war path and massacre the immigrants. The popular feeling on the Kansas border is that the President shall qualify his proclamation so as to give the colonists a military escort through the Cherokee strip, and permit them to settle on Government lands, from which the Indians' title was extinguished by purchase.

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 10.—The action of the Republicans in joint caucus last night seems materially to have changed the aspect of the deadlock. The Democrats who talked loudest of fighting it out in the last ditch now admit that it will be profitless to waste more time in a hopeless undertaking. Mr. House, Chairman of the Democratic caucus, said to-night that as the Democrats can not possibly get a quorum, they can not pass the resolution. But there is absolutely nothing in it, explained Mr. House. If the resolution should be adopted it could be set aside by either House when the time came for conducting a count, as was done in 1876. On the other hand, if it is defeated now, and the Democrats should happen to have both houses in 1881, they could adopt the same rule. Any way you put it, such a rule is of no consequence; besides, if we had a quorum, some of our men would fail to come up to the mark, and we should fail, as we have so often done before. I have understood that Mr. Stephens, of Georgia, does not approve of the joint rule, and would vote against it. I think not. A few of the Democrats in Congress favor a law, and not a joint rule on this subject. A law which should explain and supplant the constitutional provisions, which is not explicit, would be a good thing.

Mr. House says the Republicans want to establish the precedent that the Vice President can count the electoral votes.

Mr. S. S. Cox said to-night that he will make a speech on the first occasion, in which he will announce the policy of the Democrats, which is to give up the fight over the electoral rule now, and let Congress arrange the details of the count as the circumstances may at the time dictate.

Gen. Hutton spoke to Mr. Cox on Thursday, and asked him to perform this funeral duty. This will probably end the fight early in the week. Mr. Bicknell will demand the previous question perhaps on Tuesday, and after a day of filibustering, the fight will virtually be over.

Mr. Huestetter, of Indiana, an extreme Democrat, said to-day that if the Republicans persist in opposing the resolution, the Democrats will absent themselves from the respective houses, so that quorums will be wanting before the Joint Convention takes place. This, he thinks, would be sufficient to defeat the count.

Mr. J. Randolph Tucker said he believed the Democrats would not allow themselves to be forced into an extra session, which the Republicans evidently intend. They will, therefore, not make a factious fight, but will go on with the legitimate business on the calendars.
